Carlton Gardner.

Carlton Gardner died at Buckfield, Sunday morning, at the age of 78 years. He had suffered for twenty years from facial cancer.

Mr. Gardner was born in Buckfield, March 3, 1828. The Gardner family was always prominent in the community, his great-grandfather, Jonathan Gardner, being a Revolutionary soldier.

Mr. Gardner lived for a time in the West. In 1851 he married Mary T. Gammon of Buckfield. He at one time lived on Paris Hill, where he was sheriff and keeper of the County Jail. He has also lived at South Paris, Mechanic Falls and Chicago, though the greater part of his life has been lived in Buckfield. He has been in trade at different times in the village and he has filled many town offices of trust. In politics he was a democrat.

He is survived by his wife and a daughter by adoption, the wife of Dr. A. W. Hobart of Chicago.

The farm buildings on the old General Bolster place, owned and occupied by A. J. Knight, of East Rumford, were burned, Monday morning, causing a loss of between $10,000 and $14,000. The insurance on the house is $4,000. On the furniture $1,000. Fifty hens were burned with the barn. The other livestock including twenty-three cows, three horses and several pigs, were rescued. Nearly all the furniture was saved. These buildings were formerly owned by General Bolster, whose son, W. W. Bolster, is an ex-mayor of Auburn. The fire was caused by a defective chimney. The fire started about three o'clock, in the ell where they had been boiling sap. All the farming tools except a new manure spreader were saved. Mr. Frazier, who lived up stairs, lost considerable. Mr. Knight was insured for $80,000.

An Aged Pork Barrel.

While making a call at A. and G. C. Lord's quite recently while they were selling down a pork barrel lately killed, I overheard them say that one barrel in use was one which their grandfather had used in his day. He was an old man at death and had been dead 54 years, thus probably the barrel had been in constant use nearly, if not quite 100 years. Another barrel in use was bought in 1864 and was second hand then, and pork sold the next year for 25 cents per pound; also that the same barrel for salting has been boiled, skinned and used over for 30 years.

We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

You must look well after the condition of your liver and bowels. Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisons remain absorbed, causing headache, biliousness, nervousness, and thus prevent the Sarsaparilla from doing its best work. Ayer's Pills are the best. Ask your doctor. The dose is only one pill at bedtime.

Made by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Girl Who Applies for a Position.

The girl who applies for a position is nervous. Perhaps she is over-dressed. Perhaps she holds her head high with assumed pride which will mean tears when the door is shut upon her, and failure. Perhaps she is so shy that she will scarcely dare lift her eyes to the man, who in the giving of that one position, seems to hold the scale of life and death in his hands.

What is the trouble with the girls whom he don't take? Because in a brief interview he has learned they will not be suitable.

First there is the girl with the picture hat with the big blue feather and with the string of pearl beads about her neck. To begin with that girl has no right to have on that hat. First, it is unsuitable for it is conspicuous, then it is, out of harmony with the rest of her clothes for her shoes and gloves are worn, and while her dress is neat it is of cheap material and her waist is sadly crumpled; while the hat, no matter how it looks, cost her at least two weeks salary. "Frivolous," is the mental comment of the superintendent. Don't be conspicuous by wearing gay finery into the business world. Frills and laces are out of place.

Then there is the girl that giggles. She cannot look straight into the superintendent's eyes. She assumes all about her that "she doesn't need to work but she thinks it would be such fun," and so forth. She also shuts the door and pathetic part of it is that that foolish girl may need the work, all too sadly, but how can the manager know that? He is seeking a good worker. A girl who thinks work is just a lark is not likely to be satisfactory. Do you blame him for not choosing her? Silly pride was her mistake. No one need be ashamed of honest work.

There is the bold girl. She says "Yes"—"No" and talks rather loudly. She looks unconcerned about the position. "She will not be courteous to customers," is the superintendent's thought.

Then there is the untidy girl. We all know how she looks. Her collar doesn't fit together at the back, a big clasp pin shows a bit under her belt. Her hair is fluffed about her face. Oh, no, she won't do at all. And so it goes.

And what does the girl look like who has the best chance of the position you ask?

Perhaps that girl in the gray suit whose eyes are merry but whose lips tremble because she is so nervous. There is sincerity in her looks and in her speech. She wants the work. Her clothes are worn, pathetically worn, perhaps, but neatly brushed. She has the sense not to waste cheap finery at a time when she is so nervous. She is demure when she is asked to wait. She has a certain assurance, a belief in her powers which is not conceit, but she is not aggressive. She has the best chance for the place.

Be natural when seeking a position. Avoid affectation. Try to make a good impression but remember that real earnestness is the best characteristic you can wear.

In the Office. Don't be too quick to make friends—nor too slow. Be courteous to every one. Beware of the girl who gives you all the office gossip the first day or so, and tell her nothing of your own affairs. Beware of gossips anywhere, but particularly in the office. What the "old" and what "she did" may be very interesting but they are none of your affairs. Keep your standards of manners and morals firmly fixed but don't be a prig, anywhere. Believe me, girls, the world has no place for prigs. From the time of the Pharisees, who thanked God he was not as other men were, down to the present day, they do evil to the world.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of touch and completely deprave the system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable sources. Beware of cheap imitations. The damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, 75c. per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

John S. Barlow, J. P. Johnson and J. A. Decker.

The agricultural papers are prompting the farmers of Maine to give more attention to the raising of oats. It is estimated that our farmers should raise more of the grain needed in their dairy business. Lately they have been dropping away from the practice of raising grain, till now there is but little grown. Why waste time and money in hauling grain from the cities and villages, when it can be easily cultivated and raised at home?

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES. Itching, Blind, Bleeding, Protruding Piles. Druggists refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c. 1-62

Eastman Johnson.

The Famous Painter Dead at New York—A Native of Oxford County.

Eastman Johnson, the painter, died suddenly at his home in New York Tuesday night, in his 82d year. Mr. Johnson had been ailing for a year.

Mr. Johnson was born in Lovell. His father was Philip C. J. Johnson, who was for many years secretary of the State of Maine.

Mr. Johnson settled first in Augusta, working almost wholly on portraits in black and white and pastel. In 1845 he moved with his parents to Washington, where he made portraits of many distinguished men, including Daniel Webster and John Quincy Adams. While in Boston in 1849 he made portraits of Longfellow and his family, Emerson, Hawthorne and Sumner. He went to Düsseldorf in 1849, studying one year at the Royal Academy. He spent a year with Leutz and four at The Hague, painting there his first important picture in oil, The Savoyard and The Card Players.

He established himself in Paris, but returned to the United States in 1856. In the two years following he was in Washington and on the northern shores of Lake Superior among the Indian tribes. In 1858 he painted The Old Kentucky Home. That painting practically established his reputation as an artist. In that year he opened a studio in New York City, where he had lived ever since. He was elected an Academician in 1888.

Although Johnson excelled as a portrait painter he made his reputation as a delineator of American domestic and negro characters. Mr. Johnson received medals for exhibitions at Paris, London, the Philadelphia Centennial, the World's Columbian Exposition and at the Buffalo and Charleston expositions. He was a member of many art and social organizations.

Mr. Johnson married Elizabeth B. Buckley and his daughter, Ethel, is the wife of Alfred R. Conkling.

Morse—Kimball.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season, occurred Wednesday, April 4th, at the Morse homestead, on the Otisfield road, when Pearl Hannah Morse and Alonzo Kimball, both of Oxford, were united in matrimony by Roscoe F. Staples, of Welchville. The rooms were tastefully decorated and showed many evidences of the bride's skill as a house wife.

Not even the bad roads could keep the many friends of the couple from attending, about 100 guests being present, including many of the best known people in town.

Many handsome and useful presents were received by the happy couple. Including china wear from Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Flood and Eva Frost, cut glass from Mrs. N. G. Frost and Edna Irving, linen from Ethel Flood and Mrs. Fred Penley.

The bride wore an elegant gown of brown silk trimmed with white chiffon and lace, the groom was dressed in the conventional black.

A novelty was introduced in the line of music, many appropriate and beautiful selections being given by Mr. Smith on his graphophone. The guests received another pleasant surprise when refreshments were served. These consisted besides ice cream, cake and confectionary, hot rolls and maple syrup, a dish most appropriate to the time of year. During the later part of the evening the younger people enjoyed themselves by dancing and playing games.

This was carried on only a short time, as the condition of the roads made an early start for home desired.

The bride is well known here, having spent the greater part of her life in this town and having received her education at the village schools. She taught school for a short time, but soon abandoned it to assist her people at home. She is a sister to Alpheus Morse, who made such a hit in his music selections, in the entertainment given recently by the Y. girls of this place. The groom is not so well known having lived here but a short time, but he has already through his personality won many friends. It is understood that the couple leave in the morning for a short honeymoon, but they could not be induced to divulge their destination. However, they have the best wishes of their numerous friends to take with them.

Consumption is a Germ Disease. How can it Start With a Cold?

This is a reasonable question and one that must arise to the mind of almost everyone when the claim is made that consumption starts with a cold. The cold simply prepares the system for the reception and development of germs of that disease, that would not otherwise have found lodgement. It is the same with diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles. They are most likely to be contracted when the child has a cold.

This is why a cold should never be neglected. The longer it hangs on the greater the danger. As a quick cure for colds Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be relied upon. Its remarkable cures have won for it a world wide reputation and an immense sale. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Noyes Drug Store, Norway, and Shurtlett's, South and West Paris. 15-19

HILLS

PRACTICAL GRADUATE OPTICIAN.

The only optician in this county who has ever personally attended an Optical School and has diploma for same.

Hills is recommended by nearly every first-class Physician in Oxford County, what more do you want?

If your eyes need treatment go to your regular Physician, IT'S SAFER than fooling with Quack Doctors and Fake Opticians.

NORWAY ADVERTISER, 1895, 11 years ago, says:—"Vivian W. Hills, our local optician has been in Portland the greater part of the past few weeks, taking a post-graduate optician's examination, under the charge of a celebrated New York oculist. This examination, and practice at the Eye and Ear Infirmary must necessarily be a benefit to Mr. Hills in his examination of the eye. Mr. Hills took his first course ten years ago in Chicago and ever since has been in advance of all others. He also was the first in Oxford County to make a specialty of fitting the eye for all errors."

Hills' prices are the lowest. Why pay $5.00, $4.00 for $3.50 when you can get the very same at Hills for $2.50. Why pay $2.50, $2.00, when you can get the same at Hills for $1.00?

Don't understand us saying we are the only one who can fit you—some "traveling men," "spectacle dealers," "would be opticians" and "quack doctors" will fit you so you can see, but you will pay double the price that HILLS would ask you for the same. How do you know but a pair fitted by HILLS would be less strain on the eyes? Try it, for why take chances? Don't fool with your eyes.

Anyone can sell Glasses, WE FIT THEM.
